Dear Keller:

I have posted your letter where our graduate students could see it, but so far have had no takers, nor do I know of anyone elsewhere who might be contacted. This is a shame but good people are hard to find and, at the moment, still easy to place.

I am glad to hear that your business is thriving and hope that we can get together so that I can hear more about it. I am making a flying trip to Minnesota tomorrow to talk to the Colloquium, but can't take time away from several pressing matters here to extend my tour.

Give my best to Marion.

Cordially,

Fred
